IT will, doubtless, afford peculiar Satisfaction to every humane Disposition to reflect upon the generous, and benevolent Spirit, which appears under various Forms, in different Parts of this great Metropolis.

The Compassion and Liberality of the past and present Age have provided several Hospitals, and other salutary Means of relieving the distressed : Yet, still it must be allowed, they are inadequate to the laudable End proposed by such Institutions.

The Importance and Utility of the industrious Poor to a civilized and commercial
State

State are indisputable : They, consequently, claim our serious Regard, and are intitled to our charitable Assistance. Experience shows, that, as they are subject in common with the rest of Mankind to a great variety of Diseases, so, they labour under many peculiar to themselves ; exposed to the Changes of the Weather, or confined to unhealthy Habitations, and engaged in various Employments, they fall a prey to numerous Complaints, sufficient to excite the Attention, and implore the Aid of the Benevolent and Wealthy.

Impressed with these Considerations, in the Year 1770, a similar Institution was established in Aldersgate-street, under the Name of the General Dispensary : But that Charity being confined to the City, in respect of visiting the Poor at their own Habitations, the LONDON DISPENSARY was established to afford the like Relief to the industrious Poor in the Eastern Parts of the Metropolis.

The great Encouragement this Charity has already received from a generous and benevolent Public, the Number of Objects relieved by so easy and moderate a Subscription, and the truly charitable End it has

To such as are inclined to become Benefactors by Will, the following Form of a Legacy is recommended.

Item, I give and bequeath unto A. B. and C. D. the Sum of to be raised and paid by and out of my Personal Estate and Effects, which by Law I may or can charge with the Payment thereof upon Trust, and to the Intent that they, or either of them do pay the same to the Treasurer (for the Time being) of a Charity, called or known by the Name of the LONDON DISPENSARY, for Relief of the Poor, at the Dispensary or their own Habitations, instituted in the Year 1777, and now kept in Primrose-street; which said Sum I desire may be applied towards carrying on the benevolent Designs of the said Charity.

N.B. Giving Land or Money, or Stock by Will, with Directions to be laid out in the Purchase of any Estate for the Benefit of this Charity, will be void by the Statute of Mortmain, but Money or Stock may be given by Will without being directed to be laid out.
